What does the internet say about you?

Andrew Heiss

Andrew Young School of Policy Studies Georgia State University

andhs.co/utah-internet

Plan for today

Why care about an internet presence?

Tell people you exist

Show people who you are

Show people what you do

Why care about an internet presence?

It's nice to be known

Reputation is crucial in academia

Control the narrative!

Tell people you exist

Search engine rankings

Algorithms determine your rankings in search engines

Make profiles on standard websites to borrow those sites' reputations

Use other peoples' websites

Google Scholar

Institutional directory

LinkedIn

Link your profiles

List your different profiles on each site to help the algorithm link them together

Show people who you are

Show people who you are

Your own website

Social media

Use your own website

Have a central place that is all about you and what you do

Control the narrative about you

Point everything else here

How and where?

A website is (typically) a set of HTML files that lives on a computer somewhere in the world

Use someone else's server or your own

Site creation + hosting

Google sites

(free; limited design choices)

Wix

(free/paid; ad-supported)

Your institution

(free; unknown process for editing)

WordPress

(free/paid; more design options)

Weebly

(free/paid; ad-supported)

Squarespace

(free/paid; ad-supported)

More technical + more control

Netlify (free; supply your own HTML)

GitHub Pages

(free; supply your own HTML)

Self-hosted (like Digital Ocean)

(cheap; total control; more complicated!)

Domain name

A domain name is an address that points at a server

sites.google.com/yourname vs. yourname.com

You can point a domain name at pretty much any hosting option

iwantmyname.com

What should be there?

Social media

Have a presence on social media

Twitter, Instagram, TikTok, etc.

What should I post?

Strictly professional

Only advertise your research Personal + professional

Show the world who you are (part of that is research)

Boost your own work

Build and participate in a community

#poliscicooks #poliscibakes

#rstats

#EconTwitter

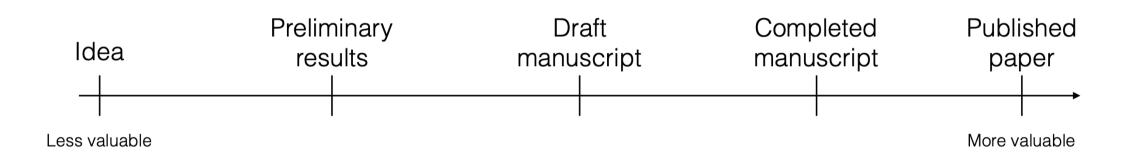

Show people what you do

Show people what you do

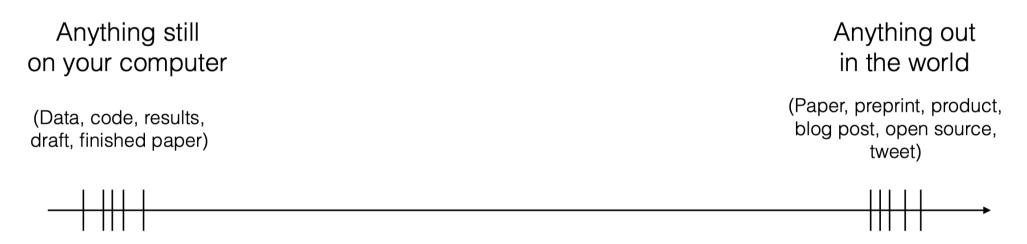

Your in-progress work

Your finished work

How we normally think of our work and goals

How we should think of our work and goals

Less valuable

More valuable

Make your work available

Most journals allow you to post preprints online

(pre-typeset and pre-edited versions)

Consider posting working papers too!

Academia.edu & ResearchGate

Make it as easy as possible to access your stuff!

Control your internet presence!

Tell people you exist

List yourself on existing websites

Show people who you are

Make your own website and use social media

Show people what you do

Show your in-progress and finished work